What are your first impressions of the planner?
Who do you think could/should make use of the planner, and for what purposes?
What in your view are the advantages of using the planner, and who will benefit?

What, if anything, could help the intended users make effective use of the planner (eg training, guidance, time...)?

Do you foresee any technical limitations in using the planner?

What (if any) organisational issues do you foresee?

Please give your views on the future development plans outlined by the projects.
What (if any) improvements or revisions would you like to see?

Do you have any other ideas or views about piloting or promoting the pedagogic planning tool?

Please return this form to Paul Bailey or Jane Plenderleith before you leave Aston.
All responses will be treated in confidence and not attributed without prior permission.
